BMO Global Asset Management Appoints Fadi Khoury as Head of Middle East and North Africa

DUBAI, 25 September 2017 – BMO Global Asset Management recently announced the appointment of Fadi Khoury as the Executive Managing Director, Head of Middle East and North Africa (MENA). Fadi joined in July 2017 and will be based out of BMO Global Asset Management’s representative office in Abu Dhabi.

Reporting directly to Mandy Mannix, Head of Client Management, EMEA, at BMO Global Asset Management, Fadi will have an initial focus on institutional investors based across the GCC, namely government entities including sovereign wealth funds (SWFs), multilateral organisations, central banks and public pension funds. In his new role Fadi will also look to expand the business into family offices, banks, insurance companies and wealth managers.

Commenting on Fadi’s appointment, Mandy Mannix, Head of Client Management, EMEA, BMO Global Asset Management said:

“Fadi’s appointment affirms our commitment to the region and most importantly to our clients. He joins BMO Global Asset Management as we look to enhance the relationships already established in the region, as well as build new ones. Fadi will be pivotal in promoting our highly diversified choice of investment solutions to clients across the region.”

Commenting on his appointment, Fadi Khoury, Executive Managing Director, Head of MENA at BMO Global Asset Management, said:

“I am excited to join BMO Global Asset Management to help expand its offering in the region. My goal is to support investors who put their trust in us whilst also engaging with potential new investors. I am confident that we have the correct platform and suite of products to deliver results.”

Prior to joining BMO Global Asset Management, Fadi was Managing Director for institutional clients in the Middle East at Amundi. Fadi has a Bachelor degree in Engineering and Industrial Management, as well as International Business from the University of Westminster. Fadi also obtained a Master’s degree in Mechatronics from King’s College London.
